

April, 2014, while on patrol on U.S. Highway 82 east of the City of Lubbock, I observed a vehicle apparently exceeding the posted speed limit of 75 miles per hour. I confirmed this as the vehicle registered a speed of 89 miles per hour on the radar unit in my patrol vehicle. I pursued the vehicle and effected a routine traffic stop to address the speeding issue with the driver.

The driver, a white male in his mid 40's, produced a Texas driver's license that identified him as Jackson S. Gilmore, 45 years of age, with an address of 2304 E. 19th Avenue, Lubbock, Texas. I asked the dispatcher of the Lubbock County Sheriff's Office to check the National Crime Information Center for possible warrants for Gilmore. The reply was to inform me that Gilmore was wanted in New Mexico for the felony offense of Burglary. I asked the dispatcher to contact the New Mexico law enforcement agency that held the warrant and to confirm that it is still active and that Gilmore is in fact a fugitive. Upon receipt of the affirmative confirmation, I arrested Gilmore as a fugitive from justice pursuant to Article 51.13, Section 14 of the Texas Code of Criminal Procedure.

When I arrived at the Lubbock County Sheriff's Office with Gilmore in custody, the dispatcher delivered to me a computerized print-out of Gilmore's criminal history. Included was a narrative explaining that Gilmore was indicted in Lea County, New Mexico for the offense of Burglary in July 2015. The record indicated that Gilmore had posted bail for the indictment but had failed to return to court in accordance with the terms and conditions of his bail bond on August 6, 2012. A warrant was issued for his arrest and Jackson S. Gilmore, who the record indicates is known as "Skip," has been a fugitive from justice since that date. Through email correspondence with the State's attorney in Lea County, New Mexico, I confirmed that Burglary is a felony as prohibited by Article 200.03 of the Revised Criminal Statutes of New Mexico and it is a crime punishable by imprisonment for a term exceeding one year.

Therefore, I believe that probable cause exists to believe that Jackson Samuel "Skip" Gilmore, being charged with a felony offense in the State of New Mexico, has fled from justice in said State. Accordingly, I ask for issuance of a warrant authorizing arrest and seizure of Jackson Samuel "Skip" Gilmore for the offense of Felony Fugitive from Another State and that he be dealt with as the law provides.
