The conference is designed to advance attendees' advocacy skills through an opportunity to explore a single, real-life case from voir dire to closing. In addition, a variety of topics will be covered by foremost experts in prosecution, psychiatry, and medicine. The conference also includes training geared toward prosecutors and DFPS attorneys assigned to a CPS caseload. This track has been developed with the assistance of the Supreme Court of Texas Children's Commission and the Texas Department of Family and Protective Services. You won't want to miss this training opportunity!
